

Delivery Upon the Delaware

December 25th, 1776

A mere six months after declaring its' independence from Great Britain, the American cause was all but lost – yet a bold and unexpected attack across the Delaware River upon enemy positions would rekindle the flame of Liberty.

Penned & Presented by Steven A. Campbell